NARRATIVE:

Bracey, who also goes by the name "Carlos Boyd", has an extensive criminal history that began at the age of 20 and includes multiple arrests for first degree burglary, first degree robbery, grand theft, second degree burglary, receive known stolen property, petty theft with prior jail, possession of controlled substance, false identification, obstruction, and parole violations. He has served six prison commitments, the longest term being nine years for 1st degree robbery of a inhabited dwelling. He was released most recently from state prison to the supervision of the Los Angeles County Probation Department on July 14th, 2013 after serving a 3 year term for petty theft with prior jail. Under the Governor's Public Safety Realignment Act of 2011, better known as Assembly Bill 109 (AB 109), the responsibility of lower-level offenders was shifted from the State to Los Angeles County. He subsequently failed to report to his probation officer and an arrest warrant was issued in July 2013 after Bracey absconded from post release community supervision (PRCS). Bracey qualified to be released to the supervision of probation, under AB 109, because his current commitment offense is defined as non-serious and non-violent under the California penal code. His prior history and current failure to comply with the terms of release make him a most wanted. If you know his whereabouts please contact...
